About the place & the organisation

Øvebakken is a private prison supporting young men who have committed various offences. The organisation cooperates with 3 different companies, which in the everyday life make a working day for these young people.

Tørring is a small village with 3500 inhabitants, placed in the South Jutland with about 17 kilometres to the nearest bigger town called Vejle.

It's located near the source of "Gudenåen",

Denmark's longest river, and is the starting point for the very popular kano sailing taking place every year on the Gudenå.

It has during the last couple of years developed from being an ordinary boring town to a town with a lot of opportunities.

More shops, more spare-time activities and more people are some of the changes which have happened during the last years.
